BADGE CERTIFICATION

COMPOUND

Badge earners can combine skills in various ways to form compounds to be applied for certification from the issuer. Certifications require the combination of skills with a minimum of one mastery badge. In this example, the earner created a documentary about school bullying. The first version of the film was used as a kickstarter trailer to fund a partnership with a local filmmaker to create the next iteration. As the director and producer of the new film she toured the documentary around local schools which sparked the creation of a non-profit she now leads empower those victimized by bullying.
